Items Concerning Other Centers

METROPOLITAN NEW YORK

Harlem Center, New York City, 321 West 138th Street

Devotional services twice daily at 7:45 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Dev. Serv. Sun., 9 a.m. and 8 p.m.
Dev. Serv. Sun., 9:30 a.m.
Children's Class...Sun., 11:00 a.m.
Bible Class.....Sun., 6:30 p.m.

Public Lectures for the current month as follows:

Thursday lectures for the current month as follows:
Feb. 6—Fellowship One with Another..........................J. M. Pate
Feb. 13—The Occult Significance of Blood........................Istra Stern
Feb. 20—The Water of Life..................................Mrs. C. I. Parchment
Feb. 27—Spiritual Sight and Insight: Stereopticon .............Arnold C. Wedderburn

The Center has chosen the following leaders of classes for the ensuing year: Astrology, Arnold C. Wedderburn, John N. Patterson, Miss V. Spence; Anatomy and Bible Study, Kenneth S. McPherson; Philosophy, Mrs. C. I. Parchment and Mrs. Cora Washington.

The Choral Class meets every Saturday 8:30 p.m. Anyone who can sing is welcome to join.

Brooklyn, N. Y., 330 Halsey Street, near Throop Avenue

Tel. Lafayette 4188 and Sterling 6071

Children's Hour, Sunday Refreshments 3 p.m.; Teachings 3:30 p.m.
Devotional Service ....................................................Sunday, 8:30 p.m.
Preliminary Philosophy ...........................................Monday, 8:30 p.m.
Preliminary Astrology .............................................Tuesday, 8:30 p.m.
Philosophy and Astrology ......................................Wednesday, 8:30 p.m.
Anatomy and Physiology........................................Sunday 3:30 p.m.

Health Clinic open at 9:30 a.m. daily. Please make appointment in advance when possible.

On Thursdays, 8:30 p.m. from Feb. 6 to Mar. 6 inclusive, Dr. Gilkes will give a series of lectures on The Rosicrucian Philosophy and Astrology in Relation to Anatomy and Physiology. The subjects follow:

Feb. 6—Symbolism of the Rose Cross.
Feb. 13—Was Death Due According to Astrology? Based on an actual chart.
Feb. 20—Our Heart and Our Health.
Feb. 27—Eating and Spiritual Development.
Mar. 6—Summary of the four preceding lectures. Questions welcomed.

The Center sustained its first membership loss by death last month in the passing of Miss Bertha Pearson. Her absence as a friend and a worker will be long felt by the Center she served so well. Cremation followed a Rosicrucian Service.

The next social gathering will be on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 23. A brief talk is followed by general discussion and refreshments.

The COSMO for Libraries

"If you are instrumental in putting a copy of the COSMO in your public library or in some book store where those on the unseen side of life can bring a darkened soul into touch with it and so into the light, your reward will not depend upon your knowing that person. Whether you know of it or not the Great Law unfailingly credits you with the work done in bringing comfort to some spiritually hungry soul. Some day these credits may surprise you."—Mrs. Max Heindel.

The Center Bulletin

A Greeting from

PROFESSOR NICHOLAS ROERICH

This month Union Center passes another milestone—the sixth. "Have you a message for us" we asked Professor Roerich, "as we journey on"? His reply follows, and our joy and gratitude is great indeed for so inspiriting and so assuring a message.

Friends:

Our friendly call comes to you at this time, when the wave of low material forces and the great deluge would try to sweep down the towers of spirit. Our call comes at this hour when all spiritual forces must be gathered on one ship to traverse the ocean, at the moment when the forces of Agni are approaching our planet, and under the benevolent ray of expanded consciousness all dangers may be surmounted. Let us transmute these dangers into blessings and in constant creation let us forever eject the concept of destruction.

Just before dawn, the night-cold becomes most intense. All laws of nature have their counterpart in the spirit—because as above, so below. Knowing these laws, we are confident that after this cold comes the glorious dawn. So instead of being terrified by this cold, we rejoice because the spiritual victory approaches and the terror of ignorance and hypocrisy shall be transformed into the beneficent tremor of supreme vibration.

In the name of this victory of the spirit we greet you! January 24, 1930.

W. Roerich