A FEW APPRECIATIONS OF ROERICH

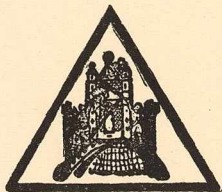

Rabindranath Tagore: Your pictures profoundly moved me. They made me realize one thing which is obvious and yet which one needs to discover for oneself over and over again. It is that truth is infinite. Your art is jealous of its independence because it is great.

Leonid Andreyeff: The genius of Roerich's fantasy reaches the border of clairvoyance. In his realm is the cradle of wisdom where the heavenly word about God and man came forth speaking eternal love and eternal struggle.

Royal Cortissoz: The essential charm of his art springs from his depth of imaginative power. He passes from dreams to realities and back again.

Mary Siegrist: From his work there speaks an irresistible and formidable genius. If as Dostoyevsky believes, beauty will save the world, then Roerich will do much to help lift the ancient burden of the world and to delight with fresh beauty the world's old altar fires.
