We are living in an age of transition. Science, Philosophy and Religion - our three avenues of thought - are passing through a crisis. A new school of thought is forming, to challenge our long-accepted views of life. A new physics is being written; a new philosophy is being formulated, and a new cosmic religion is developing to embrace all the world religions. A new civilization is in the making.

The League of Philosopher-Scientists is a research group of scientists and philosophers, having as its aim, the synthesis of science, philosophy and religion, the extension of the boundaries of physics into that of metaphysics, a metaphysics based on scientific facts and not on speculative philosophy, crating a bridge between them.

The League has been organized under the Roerich Banner of Culture and welcomes all earnest searchers for knowledge and understanding.

Information regarding membership of this League may be obtained from G. H. PAELIAN
